Grab your grass skirts, Hawaiian shirts, and get ready to have a blast at this animal charity fundraiser!

Adopt-An-Angel Animal Rescue, located in Wilmington, NC, is throwing a party, and you're invited! The Bow Wow Luau & The Cat's Meow Fun-raiser will be held on August 28, 2010 and will feature a silent auction for a variety of items on which attendees may bid. The items range from golf packages and hotel stays to artwork, jewelry, and doggie daycare gift certificates! Paintings, like the image featured in the poster, including 'Puppy Beach Party,' can be added to your art collection, while you help animals in need. Jane Partin is one of the participating artists and you can check out her work at www.janepartin.com. The musical backdrop for the evening will be provided by The Imitations, a well known band based in Wilmington, NC.

The Fun-raiser was created by Trish Arnold, who is also serving as the event's director, and she hopes to make this an annual event. Ms. Arnold hopes for a big turnout because 100% of the proceeds from the Fun-raiser will be used to boost Adopt-An-Angel's rescue, adoption, and spay/neuter efforts. Last year alone, over 700 animals found forever homes, and since the group's formation in 2004, it has spayed/neutered 2,000 animals in an effort to reduce the number of animals that end up in shelters each year. Amazingly enough, the group is run entirely by volunteers which means that every dollar raised can directly benefit animals!

So, mark your calendars and make a difference for animals by having some fun at the Bow Wow Luau & The Cat's Meow Fun-raiser!
